

Imagine The End

18 years from now...

Make It Personal

I know that I cannot model for my children what I do not personally make a priority in my own life. I am going to do the following two things so that I begin making a consistent investment in myself to be the kid of parent that GOD wants me to be.

I know that I cannot model for my children what I do not personally make a priority in my own life.. I am going to do the following two things to invest in my relationship with my heavenly father.
